THE CANDIDATES.

Talk to him tenderly. Treat him with care. Pack up his suit case and hand him his fare. Give him a book full of speeches to quote. Put in some flannel to bind up his throat. Bring forth the liniment. Heal up the twist. Voters will leave in his hand-shaking wrist. Listen politely, and don't let him see you're wondering what your appointment will be.

Many are watching his march in the fray. Who look for advantage if things go his way. He must toil and stand guard o'er your hopes and your fears; And you think you've done well if you give him three cheers.

Beautiful Ceremonies Marked Celebration of Autumn Service at Third Street Church

The members and friends of the Third Street M. E. Church could not have asked for a more beautiful autumn day on which to have their Harvest Home Service than was yesterday; it was ideal. Everything worked to gether nicely to make the day the best of its kind ever observed by this church. The decorations, while not so elaborate as on former seasons, were beautiful for their simplicity, demonstrating the artistic taste of the committee in charge. A new idea was the scattering of leaves in the aisles causing one to feel really as if he were in a forest in the fall time.

Large crowds of worshippers were in attendance at all the services; the attendance at the League and evening services being the largest ever at these services. The theme for the pastor's sermon in the evening was "The Fields are Already White unto the Harvest."

His sermon was very practical as well as helpful. The solo sung by Miss Florence Fiat was an especially enjoyable feature of the service. Harvest Home has become a fixed event with this people and the people enter into the spirit of the occasion with increasing interest as the years pass by.

The alarm of fire yesterday morning at 9:30 was caused by a slight blaze at the home of Rev. J. M. Hymore in East Third street. The Fire Department was soon on the scene and the incipient blaze extinguished with the chemical apparatus. The damage was slight, the biggest loss being the Parson's chicken dinner.

Family Row

Mrs. Anna D. Osborne of near South Ripley was arraigned in Squire William Rosser's Court Saturday charged with breach of the peace, it being alleged that she forced an entrance into the home of her sister-in-law, Bertha Osborne, and administered a severe beating to her frail kinswoman. It was a disgraceful family affair, and after hearing testimony in the case Squire Rosser assessed a fine of $10 and costs against Mrs. Anna D. Osborne.

DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT

Young Man's Life Snuffed Out in the Twinkling of An Eye by a C. and O. Loose Engine

Last evening about 7 o'clock Charles Wood, aged about 18 years, was killed at the Carmel street crossing by being run down by a loose C. and O. engine.

At the time the young man was waiting the passing of a long freight going West on the North track and when the last car had passed him ran across the track right into a loose locomotive going in the same direction on the South track, returning from the coal docks to its train out at Commerce street.

The body was dragged a considerable distance before the train crew was aware of the deplorable occurrence.

Young Wood is spoken of as an industrious young man and was the main support of a widowed mother; his father, George Wood, being killed some years ago by the bursting of an empty wheel at the Foundry, corner Second and Limestone streets.

Coroner Slack was called and the verdict of the jury was accidental death, with contributory negligence on part of both Wood and those in charge of the locomotive.

CHARLES HENRY COOPER

One of Maysville's Old and Highly Esteemed Citizens Passes Away

Mr. Charles H. Cooper, who was stricken with paralysis Thursday last, died at his home in the Hill House yesterday morning at 7 o'clock, aged 66.

He was born in Fleming county November 24th, 1846, but removed to this city in early life, where he continued to reside respected and esteemed by the entire community. He was married October 15th, 1875, to Miss Emma V. Harris of Germantown, and who preceded him to the grave some four years ago.

For many years he was engaged in the dry goods business as clerk for various establishments and at one time conducted a drygoods store of his own in the building now occupied by Simon Nelson. In later years he was the faithful janitor at the Fifth Ward School building. He was a consistent member of the M. E. Church, South.

He is survived by one daughter and two sons, Mrs. Aaron McConnell of Millersburg, and Charles Marshall and Harris B. Cooper of this city.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, from the M. E. Church, South, with services by the Pastor, Rev. M. S. Clark, and Rev. Roger L. Clark of the Christian Church in Germantown.

Verdict for $4,000

In the case of Frank Lewis vs. Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. in the Lewis Circuit Court, the railroad, which runs through his farm, constructed a separate crossing for his convenience, but allowed it to get out of repair. While astride his horse pulling a sled of corn, the hoofs of his horse caught between the ties, and in endeavoring to get loose the horse threw him over its head on a pile of ties, whereby the left arm and leg became paralyzed. The jury awarded a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $4,000. Messrs. Samuel J. Pugh and A. D. Cole were attorneys for plaintiff; Mr. LeWright Browning represented the defendant.
